How to Thrive During Uncertainty

Times feel uncertain. During uncertainty, our actions need to be intentional. Thriving in this season is possible by implementing a few daily, simple self-care strategies.

GROW Counseling, based out of the Metro Atlanta area, developed this survival guide designed to help you engage in self-care during this difficult time. This tool will guide you to focus on elements within your daily activities you can control. It will help you stay grounded and intentional every day. The guide includes essential self-care strategies, extra self-care strategies, and other-care strategies. GROW Counseling has additional free resources for you at growcounseling.com/resources.

Many counseling centers are offering telemental health services at this time. This means counseling services are offered remotely via phone or video conferencing.

essential self-care strategies

The essential strategies to self-care include healthy sleep patterns, drinking plenty of water, exercise, getting fresh air, personal hygiene, and maintaining a daily routine. Each day you will be prompted to be intentional with each strategy.

healthy sleep patterns

Sleeping too little and sleeping too much can both cause emotional and mental distress. Consider implementing a consistent wake and bed time.

drinking water

A general recommendation of water intake is to drink eight glasses of water per day. If this is a challenge, set a goal to gradually increase your water intake over time. Track your water intake in the daily journal and see your progress.

exercise

Exercise is essential to self-care during uncertainty. Moving your body regularly can help you maintain healthy chemical levels in your brain. This can help you avoid spikes in depression and/or anxiety. Studies actually show that getting your heart rate up for as little as 30 minutes a day can have the same effect as taking an antidepressant! There are many types of exercise...walking, running, or doing a workout video are among the many! Consider picking a consistent daily exercise and trying a new type of exercise on the weekends.

Getting outside at least once a day can help boost your mood. You’ll have a reminder in your journal each day.

personal hygiene Taking care of your personal hygiene helps provide normalcy. Even if you are not able to go out, consider getting ready just like you normally would.

emotion regulation
Regulating your emotions is essential during uncertainty. The first step in emotion regulation is being aware of how you feel. It’s okay and normal to feel multiple emotions at one time, even if those emotions are contradictory. Make yourself aware of your emotions each day with the daily journal.

daily routine
Setting up a simple daily routine will help the days not blend together. It is helpful to set up a routine for weekdays and a different routine for weekends. This will help keep a feeling of normalcy during uncertainty. Remember, this is not a one-size fits all scenario. Do what works best for you!
extra self-care strategies

Adding one extra self-care strategy into your day can help keep you grounded, calm, and hopeful. Examples of extra self-care strategies include reading a book, lighting a candle, learning something new, etc.

Below make a list of extra self-care strategies you can do from home. The daily journal will prompt you to use one strategy from the list each day.
get inspired

Here's a list of extra self-care strategies you can use to get inspired to create your own list!

Caring for others is very important during this time. When you are intentional with your self-care, you will have more capacity to care for others. Create a list of ways you could care for other people. Examples of other-care strategies are writing a letter of encouragement, calling someone you’ve lost touch with, ordering groceries for an elderly neighbor, doing a chore for someone you live with, etc.

Below, make a list of other-care strategies you can do from home. The daily journal will prompt you to use one strategy from the list each day.

Regulating your emotions will be important during this time. Below make a list of every emotion you can think of. Each day, your journal will ask you to identify how you feel. Use the list as a reference to help you identify every feeling.

[Blank lines for listing emotions]
Before you begin using the daily survival guide, take some time to respond to the following journaling prompts.

During uncertainty, fear is normal. What level would I rate my current fear and why?

What currently feels out of my control? How can I focus my mind on things I can control?

How well am I taking care of myself right now?
What is helpful about watching the news? What is unhelpful about watching the news?

How much time spent watching the news is best for me personally?

Do I need anything urgently? Is there a safe way for me to get what I need?

Gratitude grows when we focus on what we have, rather than what we don’t – my favorite coffee mug, clean sheets on the bed, a warm scarf, a crisp apple, or the sunlight coming through the trees.

There are two main types of coping strategies: avoidant and active. Avoidant could include excessive drinking, shopping, gambling, or numbing out on social media. Active coping skills require that we engage in something different, rather than remaining in stress. -Kim DeRamus Lareau, LPC, CPCS
